THE BLESSING

Our blessings be upon you that you may hold steadfast to the love between you. May your home be a sanctuary of peace, a source of radiance going out from one to the other. May the power of life and the abundance of it ever and always touch your lives. Even as you have chosen each other from the world's multitudes, may the days and the years, now veiled by this moment, deepen the wisdom of your choice and enlarge the storehouse of love that is yours. Honor and cherish each other always and may your lives be blessed with joy and peace and may your days be good and long upon this earth. Blessed be.
